

Marshall Construction Scottish Tarmac Rally Championship

November 2020

Unfortunately, only 1 round of the intended 2020 Marshall Construction Scottish Tarmac Rally Championship has taken place this year, and due to the ongoing Covid 19 pandemic and issues surrounding physical distancing and the cancellation of events within the STRC, the championship committee regrettably had to take the decision to cancel the championship for 2020.

The Championship organisers are already looking forward to, and preparing for, the 2021 rally season and are delighted that the main sponsor Marshall Construction, and all the sub-sponsors will be carrying forward their sponsorship to next year, as are this year's registered competitors.

I hope you are all well and coping with, what has become a very strange year, and look forward to seeing motorsport once again on the stages, circuits, roads & 'carparks' in Scotland.
