Edinburgh University Motorsport Club

The enthusiasm for navigational rallies has remained strong with several members competing in the SACC Navigational Rally Championship. There are also a few crews taking on the challenge of moving up a class for this year. After round 3, EUMSC is leading the best club award.

The club is continuing its involvement in stage rallying, with two current EUMSC members competing as navigators at recent events, including the Granite City and Jim Clark. The club is planning to actively get members out to marshal more often once everyone is back after summer.

The club competed in this year's British Universities Rookie Karting Championship. They finished with an excellent result of 12th out of 52 teams.
