

I attended the Sir Jackie Stewart Classic at Thirlestane Castle on Sunday and I am delighted to report it was a fantastic event, obviously the core was to aid Race Against Dementia an extremely worthy cause.

It showcased the career and success of Sir Jackie , many his cars spanning his journey throughout his career were on display, and live action provided by the SMRC with an eclectic and diverse group of cars including an F1 Red Bull.

The BVAC Classic Car Show was an exceptional display of over 1000 vehicles, and great to see them back after a 2-year absence.

Also the event showcased Scotland's culture through their Retail Village, and great to see the VSMA recruiting.

Overall, a great event and I sure one that will be repeated , a great deal of thanks should be given to all concerned, especially Rory Bryant and his team who produced this in under 6 months.
